

To complete the project, you must have attempted all 4 of the tasks and met all 4 of the deadlines. Your work must be hand written. Don't forget to put your name on all pieces of work that you hand in. Remember that spelling, punctuation and grammar are assessed too.

Task	Criteria	Level	Complete
1. Location Aim: To research and describe the global location of China. Due date: _____	A simple world map. No written description.	L2
	A simple map with basic description of the location possibly using compass directions.	L3
	Find 2 maps showing the location. Written location including compass directions and continent name.	L4
	Written location as above, with maps of different scales (local, regional and global). Maps need to be labelled with headings	L5
	Detailed written location including regional location: situation within the region. 3 labelled maps (of different scales) that have North arrows and scale lines.	L6
2. Demographics Aim: To research and describe the population of China over the last 50 years. Due date: _____	Say what the current population of China is.	L2
	Brief written paragraph describing the population of China. Use of geographical terms may be weak.	L3
	Clear paragraph about the age and gender structure of the Chinese population.	L4
	Detailed written explanation of the change to the Chinese population over 50 years. Reasons given for the change in age and gender structure. Good use of geographical keywords.	L5
	Detailed written explanation about the changes to China's population structure over the past 50 years. Secure use of geographical keywords. Will include an annotated population pyramid.	L6
3. Migration Aim: To research and describe the migration of people within China. Due date: _____	List of where Chinese people migrate from and to. Possibly a simple, incomplete map.	L2
	A brief written description Chinese migration.	L3
	Clear written description about the rural urban migration within China.	L4
	Detailed written paragraph describing and starting to consider the reasons for the rural migration in China. Map included.	L5
	Detailed written description and explanation for the rural to urban migration within China. Annotated map to illustrate the issues. Secure use of geographical keywords.	L6
4. Population control Aim: To research and describe the population control policies in China. Due date: _____	List of population polices.	L2
	Brief written description of the policies China has used to control population.	L3
	Clear written description of the policies China has used to control population.	L4
	Detailed written description and reasons for the policies China has used to control population. Mention made of migration and natural increase.	L5
	An evaluation of the population control policies that China has used. Both international migration and natural increase are covered.	L6	