Dear Parent/Carer,

UCAS Higher Education Convention on Tuesday 15th March 2022, at the ExCel Centre in London

Your daughter should now be thinking about her options after her time here at Carshalton High School for Girls Sixth Form. Many students will already be exploring higher education as a choice. I realise there is a lot to think about in regard to this, but students should pay attention to what they will study within courses and how this will link to their future goals. Using their predicted grades, they should think about the different course entry requirements and consider the location of universities and the implications of this.

To assist with the decision-making process, we have booked places for all Year 12 students to attend the UCAS Higher Education Convention on Tuesday 15th March 2022, at the ExCel Centre in London. Even if at this point students are not thinking about going to university we would still like them to attend as there will be a range of alternative opportunities such as apprenticeships available to them.

The day will be an opportunity to visit hundreds of stands featuring information from a variety of universities from all over the UK and abroad. Students will be encouraged to attend seminars which will talk about student finance and advice on writing personal statements.

Cost- The event is free of charge however students will need to pay for their own travel costs. Students MUST download their ticket to the event, and bring this with them on the day, instructions will be sent to them via email.

Travel Arrangements - Students MUST meet and register with Mrs Phelps-Gardiner and Miss Bevan by 10am at Morden Tube station. We will then travel to ExCel London together. A second register will be taken at 1pm after which students can then continue with visiting the various stands and attend the last seminars.

Students will be expected to make their own way home and should make suitable arrangements to ensure their safety.

Requirements- Students are advised to bring a rucksack or strong bag, as they will be able to collect prospectuses from different universities.
